

For over 25 years, Nigel Wright has been a trusted recruitment partner to the built environment sector. Our clients are diverse and include public and private sector organisations ranging from local councils to financial institutions, universities, architects, construction contractors and engineering consultancies.

We recognise the vital importance of the built environment industry to the future of the UK's economy. It is the UK's largest industry, worth in excess of £100 billion per year and employs over two million people. The sector is experiencing a period of sustained growth following the economic downturn and recruitment activity has increased significantly in the past twelve months.

Companies in the industry also continue to push the boundaries in innovation and sustainability as they play ever more critical roles in solving some of the UK's built environment challenges, such as carbon reduction, waste reduction and resource efficiency.

At Nigel Wright, we offer in-depth expertise and knowledge across the broad Built Environment industry. Our consultants have many years experience recruiting across the sector and enjoy long standing affiliations with key industry bodies in the region.

Our service is broad, skilled and multi-disciplined. We focus between management to executive level positions covering contract and permanent staff across the North East in the Architecture, Building Surveying, General Practice Surveying, Facilities Management, Building Services Engineering, Civil Engineering, Quantity Surveying and Construction professions.

We have developed an exceptionally successful delivery model based on proactive and highly-skilled search and selection methodologies. Our key differentiating factors are a focus on the quality of client servicing, in-depth understanding of clients' recruitment requirements and access to the best candidates. We can offer bespoke solutions to solve your specific recruitment problems.

We are closely aligned with the leading organisations in the Built Environment sector, have strong relationships with decision makers and as such, our consultants are in a strong position to represent your interests.
