We were delighted to be Associate Sponsors of the CIPD North East of England Branch HR&D Awards 2012.

Human Resource management is a process of bringing people and organisations together to achieve success. The CIPD awards are a chance for exceptional individuals and outstanding companies to be recognised for their unique contribution to the discipline and the wider business community.

Whether it is economic challenges, social media, gender diversity, or managing talent, companies require the best HR talent to help them to navigate through this hugely complex business environment.

The phenomenal number of nominations received this year proves that the North East can be extremely proud of its HR talent. We were delighted that teams and individuals wanted to be recognised for their efforts and achievements in the past year. Our significant involvement in the awards helped to increase awareness and secure participation from public and private sector companies, of all sizes.

Winning an award from CIPD is not only about celebrating success on the night, it can make a significant impact on an individual's career or an organisation's prospects in the marketplace. This year's awards were a huge success once again and we congratulate everyone who won on the night.
