

Lars Herrem speaks to Denmark's DLF Magazine

Posted 07.03.2013

Nigel Wright Director Lars Herrem gives his views on the future of the grocery industry in Denmark's DLF Magazine.

'We have seen a major shift in the type of skills and experience that is required. Previously companies desired young employees but today because the competition is tougher and time is short, they are seeking to hire people with more experience and greater insight.'
