

Consumer industry recruitment specialist, Nigel Wright Group, has signed an exclusive partnership with 150-year-old wine maker, Bodegas Torres. The agreement, effective immediately, will see Nigel Wright support the multi-award winning company - often lauded as 'the most admired wine brand in the world' - with talent acquisition projects across sales, marketing and R + D + I, as well as various business support functions. Bodegas Torres employees over 1,300 people worldwide and has enjoyed huge growth following its takeover in 2013; owing its success to investment in product innovation and buoyant export markets. To find out more about Bodegas Torres as well as stay informed of current vacancies, please access the Nigel Wright Group- Bodegas Torres microsite at the link below.