

Nigel wright celebrates in style with 1920's themed summer party

The Nigel Wright team of over 130 employees united at the Vermont Hotel last week to celebrate what has been a great year so far for the company.

Employees from international offices in London, Copenhagen, Århus, Stockholm, Malmö, Düsseldorf, Madrid, Oslo and Paris were flown in to join with those based in the North East offices to enjoy a three course meal, drinks and dancing at the Newcastle hotel.

The 1920's theme was firmly adhered to with colleagues pulling out all the stops in flapper dresses and fedoras.

Paul Wilson, CEO at Nigel Wright, said: "It was a delight to be able to bring together those from our international offices with our teams in the North East for such a fantastic occasion. Everyone got into the spirit of the evening, putting on their best 1920's outfits and raising over £1,300 to contribute towards our fundraising for Cancer Research UK."
